

All SUGAR sites will develop action plans through SWOT analysis, definition of local visions and by conducting strategic development workshops (for developing action plans within the individual site, as well as to broaden the initiative within the country).

These workshops will be based upon train-the-trainer and good practice experiences and will cover discussions on the state of the art and on how policies could be improved.